ORLIENAS

Alain Milliat produces fruit juices, nectars, jams, and fruit purees in a traditional home-style manner which is characterized by intense natural flavors. New products are introduced every year based on harvests and fresh discoveries by Alain Milliat.

Alain Milliat's products add a complexity to a non-alcoholic beverage program, sophistication to a room service tray, and elegance to a mini-bar or take-away beverage cooler. These products are unlike other shelf stable juices available in the American market due to their seasonality, depth of flavor, and refined packaging and presentation.

Antipodes - Zero Carbon Water

The world's best water from the purest country, Antipodes comes to the surface from a deep aquifer and is bottled at the source in the Bay of Plenty, New Zealand. Due to the very low natural minerality of these waters, and their neutral pH of 7.0, Antipodes is uniquely suited to pair with food and wine. Antipodes' elegant bottles present beautifully on dining tables, in hotel rooms, and in take-away beverage coolers. This is a sophisticated water for a sophisticated audience.

Bottarga - Boutargue

Memmi's bottarga is made on the outskirts of Paris by artisans who are steeped in the long French tradition of this singular product from the Méditerranée. "Boutargue" is the oceanic version of parmesan: it can be grated on pasta, sliced and served on thick toast with olive oil, or shaved over a salad of artichoke hearts. The wax coating on this bottarga ensures freshness so that when it is peeled away the natural bright orange color is preserved.

Certified Kosher.

NICOLAS ALZIARI

Nicolas Alziari Olive Oil

This exceptional olive oil is made in Nice, France at the Moulin Alziari, an ancient and storied mill. Here, the Alziari legacy is highlighted through a custom blend of the Mediterranean's finest black olive varieties, including the "petite olive niçoise," a local olive renowned for its premium soft tone with hazelnut and almond flavors. Once selected these magnificent olives are milled with a stone press which has been in use since 1868.

Famed for its fruity taste and sweet aroma, The Nicolas Alziari Cuvee Prestige we offer is used by discriminating chefs as a dipping and finishing oil, but thanks to its high smoke point, this is an excellent all purpose oil. Also ideal for retail customers who want a beautiful jar of French oil to display.
