Antipodes

New Zealand Artesian Water

Developed by Sommeliers for Sommeliers.

This exceptionally pure water is unaltered from its deep source to the bottle on the table, thanks to a remote origin.

A water's subtle taste comes from it's fine balance of minerals. The minerality of Antipodes, just 130 milligrams per liter and primarily composed of silica, is remarkably low and light.

The resulting flavor is almost imperceptible and the gentle, silky texture is perfect for cleansing and refreshing the palate. It's also a pH neutral 7.0 at source, which contributes to its unique clean and subtle taste.
